What Is Pain?

- Pain is an uncomfortable sensation that usually signals an injury or illness. Generally speaking, pain is the body's way of telling you something isn't right.
- This is the purpose of pain. It is meant to make you uncomfortable so if you are injured or sick, you will know you need to do something (or stop doing something).
- The perception of pain varies from person to person. One person might have a broken bone and not even realize it, while another might feel significant pain from that same injury. That's because pain is mediated by nerve fibers in your body, and these nerve fibers have the job of sending pain signals to the brain.
